Objectives of the Society for American Archaeology: To promote and to stimulate interest and research in the archaeology of the American continents; to advocate and to aid in the conservation of archaeological resources; to encourage public access to and appreciation of the aims, accomplishments, and limitations of archaeological research; to serve as a bond among those interested in American archaeology, both professionals and nonprofessionals, and to aid in directing their efforts into scientific channels; to publish and to encourage the publication of archaeological research; to foster the formation and welfare of regional and local archaeological societies; to discourage commercialism in archaeology and to work for its elimination; and to promote discussion and education about the ethical practice of archaeology.

Society for American Archaeology (SAA)

is an international organization dedicated to the research, interpretation, and protection of the archaeological heritage of the Americas. With approximately 7,000 members, the Society represents student, avocational, and professional archaeologists working in a variety of settings including government agencies, colleges and universities, museums, and the private sector.

Since its inception in 1934, SAA has endeavored to stimulate interest and research in American archaeology; advocate and aid in the conservation of archaeological resources; encourage public access to and appreciation of archaeology; oppose looting of sites and the purchase and sale of looted archaeological materials; and serve as a bond among those interested in the archaeology of the Americas.
